A.D. Compound is a growing company and leader in the PP compound production. The Mercandalli family has successfully led this business for over thirty years. The takeover of some of the Italian companies of the same business area has represented a significant stepstone towards production increase and a stronger market leadership in Italy and abroad.

The sales increase that A.D.Compound has recently achieved has covered almost all applications/technologies: Car and bike industry, home appliance, toys, industrial packaging, garden furniture and interior decoration. Top sales markets outside Italy are Europe, North Africa and Middle-East. The choice of opening additional warehouses in the Countries that we mostly work with is a result of our constant focus on the satisfaction of our Customers worldwide.
